

Tofu Head announces LineX and LineXLite for iPhone™ and iPod touch®

Espoo, Finland – September 7, 2009 – Tofu Head announced a new title called LineX and LineXLite for iPhone™ and iPod touch®. The game is a modern remake of the classic Morpion Solitaire with a few twists. LineX has been available in App Store since beginning of September 2009. LineXLite will be available in mid September 2009.

"Nearly all college students in Finland, at least, have been playing Morpion Solitaire to spend time in lectures. We wanted to bring this classic game to the 21st century and with the intuitive controls that the iPhone offers us it's finally possible." commented Tofu Head founder Jari Kalinainen. "LineX offers one of the best casual puzzle experiences to date. The game that used to need pen and paper will now only require the iPhone."

The goal in the LineX is to draw as many lines as possible, as fast as possible. Simple controls together with easy to learn game mechanics will guarantee hours of mind boggling moments. Unlike its paper counterpart the LineX will feature five different starting levels in three different difficulties.

Some of the features that can be found in LineX and LineXLite:

- Intuitive touch controls
- Five different starting levels: the original Classic and four completely new ones *
- Three difficulties *
- Ability to earn extra dots (more dots = more lines)
- Automatic save on exit *
- Undo line and dot
- Help function to visualize an available line
- In game sound effects
- High Score lists (online High Scores coming in first update)
- Comic style graphics

* LineXLite does not contain full implementation

"LineX - easy to learn hard to master".
